*Clarifying rights of the transport model (Leth) **

U. Leth began with the presentation about data rights and project

Part of the discussion about data rights and sustainability:

Ch. Wampera: The rights should not be different from Austrian law.

L. Sochor: Project ERRAM has similar problem. The rights are given by the building act. The data are given to all partners but after the end of the project it cannot be used. Data are not public and the data are recalculated into raster.

P. Šenk: The result is public. The project is 10% co-financing. Should we get the 10% back?

B. Horváth: Model itself should be provided, but not the source data

M. Franek: Two types of data: input data (external provider) → cannot be provided to third person, output data (was created in the project) → should be provided

*Outlook (Leth) **

U. Leth gives a short outlook on the further steps within the AT-CZ project and AT-HU project.

Final statements (Šenk, Bezák, Koren)
